If I look in the phone book I can find a doctor, a psychiatrist, a social worker, maybe even get me a wife.

But I can't find an elder who's always and only clung to Jesus Christ – not even to save my life!
Em F#m G A7 D
In the yellow pages I can find anything this world has to offer even a “church” of my favorite flavor and stripe.
Em F#m G A7 D
But where do I go to find God's remnant who've kept themselves pure and undefiled?
Em F#m G A7 D
I can find every kind of noise, comfort, distraction and toy to keep me from overcoming my sin.
Em F#m G A7 D
But I can't seem to ever just find the time to love my brother and help him carry his burden
Em F#m G A7 D
I can find every possible excuse for why I don't love my neighbor
Em F#m G A7 D
Or why I don't care for the hurts of the orphans, widows and poor
Em F#m G A7 D
And I won't even think about how I'll answer God when He wants to know
Em F#m G A7 D
Why I've ignored these His special friends.
Em F#m G A7 D
Because deep down inside I know I have absolutely nothing I can say.
Em F#m G
Somewhere I know I've let myself be deceived
Em F#m G A7 D
I know it's wrong to prefer these things that seem right in my own eyes.
Em F#m G
I just won't make the time to find and God's way.
Em F#m G A7 D
In truth I'm happy to be my own “God” and I just adore my favorite petty sins.
Em F#m G A7 D Em F#m G A7 D
So what if no one will hear my eternal screams in my lonely, fiery hell?
Em F#m G A7 D
Anyone who has ears should use them now to hear!
